Projects

RescueWheels

Developed a conceptual framework for an emergency response and rescue vehicle service designed to operate efficiently in critical situations. The project focused on real-time tracking, optimized vehicle routing, and fast dispatch mechanisms to improve response times during medical and disaster emergencies.

- Analyzed existing emergency transport systems and identified key pain points in rural and semi-urban areas.
- Designed a basic model for integrating GPS tracking and live location sharing to monitor rescue vehicles.
- Proposed a resource allocation strategy to reduce wait times and improve service reach.
- Collaborated with peers to simulate logistics workflows and draft process flowcharts for smoother coordination.
- Presented the concept at college-level project expos, receiving positive feedback for innovation and feasibility.

Extracurricular Activities
